Local artist
Local artist Sufina has an exhibition at the Michael Comarford Gallery, Rushcutters Bay October 13 to 16. Her works are graced by magnificent vistas, rich textures, bright bold colours and natural earthy fragments of shells, pebbles, gravel and sand. Sufina and husband Michael (formerly of Lamrock Café) launched Sufina Artworks in response to a growing interest in her work. Her works hang in the homes of Samantha and Kieran Perkins, Ros Packer, Sonia McMahon, Harry and Rhonda Tringhoff, and Henry Crawford.

Good Will week
44% of people in NSW over the age of 18 don't have a Will. If you die without a Will, you can leave behind not only heartache but financial uncertainty for your loved ones. This year's community education campaign Good Will Week is encouraging people to make a Will, or update their Will if their circumstances have changed. Over the past five years over $46 million has been passed to Treasury, and right now the Public Trustee has almost $10 million in "lost dollars" and estates where it is difficult to locate or establish next of kin or beneficiaries. Public Trustee NSW branches, including Bondi Junction, are open on Saturday 15 October for people to update or write your Will using the Public Trustee as executor. www.goodwillweek.com.au

The Actors' Forum
Final play reading for 2005, which continues on this year's theme of 'exposing the playwright' - presents a professionally performed reading of Neil Simon's The Good Doctor directed by Judi Farr. "There are some very poignant scenes in The Good Doctor, but overall it's a very funny play." Sunday, October 16 at 2pm, Waverley Library Theatre, Denison St, Bondi Jct. Tickets $15/$12. Available at door from 1pm. actors_forum@yahoo.com.au established in 1959, is recognised as one of Sydney's leading Musical Societies and this year successfully staged "South Pacific". Their 2006 production will be "My Fair Lady". This is a great challenge for the Players who last presented this production in 1982. There will be six performances in May, 2006. The Players are a community group attached to the Church in the Market Place, Oxford Mall, Bondi Junction where performances are staged in the Coleman Auditorium. Open auditions for principal parts and chorus for "My Fair Lady" will be held at 7.45pm on Monday 7th November, 2005. Auditions are open to everyone and will be held in the Coleman Auditorium. Contact the Director, Marion Morrison, on 9389 5361.

The Waverley Lugat Brass Players,
